

F60/21: China Registration of Food Manufacturing Premises

Animal Products, Plant Products and Processed Food

24 December 2021

For Your Information

1 Background

- (1) This FYI includes new information about China Registration of Food Manufacturers and should be read in conjunction with F56/21 China Registration of Food Manufacturing Premises and F58/21 China Registration of Food Manufacturing Premises.
- (2) This FYI is for operators who manufacture food products for export to China where the food comes under the scope of Decree 248.
- (3) This FYI has been prepared using information available at the time of publication.

2 GACC Registration Number

- (1) China's General Administration of Customs (GACC) has launched the following website which shows registered manufacturing premises: <https://ciferquery.singlewindow.cn/>.
- (2) This website has no password and shows basic information about the GACC manufacturer registration, including GACC registration number and registration expiry date.
- (3) This website includes information about self-registered premises and some of those premises recommended by the Ministry for Primary Industries (MPI).
 - a) GACC appear to be continuously adding information to this website. At the time of FYI publication, not all manufacturing premises that are recommended by MPI appear to be there.
- (4) To search for your registration details, enter your MPI-approved registration number in the field entitled “所在国家（地区）注册编号 Overseas Reg. No.” and press the blue button that shows the magnifying glass icon (see yellow highlights on the screenshot below). Note this field is case-sensitive.

- (5) MPI has noticed that some of the information on this website isn't up-to-date and does not reflect some New Zealand registers that GACC has recently updated and published. MPI understands that this is just an administrative issue and should be corrected.

3 CIFER User Accounts

- (1) This section is relevant for the 18 product categories where MPI needs to recommend GACC registrations (ie those listed in Article 7 of Decree 248).
- (2) To login to CIFER \(https://cifer.singlewindow.cn\), operators need a username and password.
 - a) For operators who have already set up a user account for their manufacturing premises (for self-registration purposes), MPI is able to authenticate this user account so that it includes access to the 18 product categories. Email ChinaCountryListings@mpi.govt.nz if you would like MPI to do this, noting that this will not be done before 5 January 2022.
 - b) For operators whose existing registration has been loaded into the CIFER system by GACC, and who have not needed to set up their own user account (for self-registration purposes), your username will be your GACC Registration Number. It appears that MPI will need to issue operators of these premises with a temporary password so they can login to CIFER. This will be done in January 2022.
 - c) Note the website mentioned in Section 2 (https://ciferquery.singlewindow.cn/.) does not require a username and password to access.
